The film stars Lily Collins and Sam Claflin, with Christian Cooke, Tamsin Egerton, Suki Waterhouse, Jamie Beamish and Jaime Winstone. Love and Rosie's plot have been best friends for almost as long as they remember. During Rosie's 18th birthday, Alex kisses Rosie, who is drunk, and realizes that he has romantic feelings for her. The next day, while breastfeeding a hangover and having her stomach pumped, Rosie regrets getting drunk, and says Alex that she wishes the night hadn't happened. Alex interprets her words as Rosie only wanting to be friends. Greg, the fittest guy in their year, invites Rosie to the school dance. While she originally intended to go with Alex, she accepts Greg's offer when she learns that Alex is thinking about dancing with a girl named Bethany. After the dance, Rosie has sex with Greg, but the condom slips into her. Rosie aspires to one day run her own hotel, and applies and gets accepted to a hotel management course at Boston University. She rushes to tell Alex, but finds him having sex with Bethany, which makes her vomit. Rosie discovers she's pregnant, but refuses to tell Alex, fearing she'll give up the chance to study at Harvard to help care for her. After Alex leaves for the United States, she gives birth to a daughter, whom she calls Katie. Alex learns of Bethany's Rosie's pregnancy and becomes Katie's godfather. Five years later, Rosie visits Alex in Boston and spend a night together talking and visiting places. The next morning, she discovers that his girlfriend is pregnant. She understands that Alex's life situation was not adequate and tries to talk to him, but he rejects it, saying that at least their child will have both parents. Enraged, Rosie leaves Boston immediately. She reconciles with Greg, who had initially fled to Ibiza after finding out about the pregnancy, and the two eventually married in 2009. Later, Rosie learns that Alex broke up with his girlfriend after discovering that the baby not his. She come across Bethany, now a famous model, and suggests that Bethany look up Alex on a future trip to the US. Five more years go by. Rosie's father dies. Alex attends the funeral, where he reconciles with Rosie. At the same event, Greg behaves immaturely, causing a scene. This later asks Alex to write Rosie a note saying that she deserves better and that he can be that better man. However, Greg intercepts the note and hides it from Rosie. Later, Rosie discovers that Greg is diing and kicking him out. While she gets rid of his stuff, she finds the letter from Alex. She calls him, but discovers that Bethany lives with him now and that the two are engaged. He invites Rosie to be their best man at their wedding. Rosie plots to interrupt the wedding, but fails because the church ceremony is over by the time she arrives. At the reception, Rosie gives a speech, telling Alex that she loves him as a friend. Her daughter, Katie, brings a friend named Toby with her to the wedding, in a friendship reminiscent of Rosie and Alex when they were kids. During a dance, Toby suddenly kisses Katie, but Katie pushes him and runs outside. Rosie and Alex are following her. Alex advises her and tells her to follow her feelings with Toby or she may regret it, alluding to how she felt about Rosie. After a moment, Toby finds Katie and apologizes for what she did. As she asks him to forget what happened, Katie interrupts him with a kiss. At that point, Alex learns that Rosie doesn't remember the kisses they shared on her 18th birthday. He realizes that he was wrong in interpreting her desire to forget that night as she wished to remain platonic. Using her father's legacy, Rosie finally fulfills her ambition to start her own hotel. Alex is her second guest. When she arrives, she tells Rosie that she has ended her marriage to Bethany and shares with her a recurring dream she had about the two being together. Finally, they kiss.
